

Mr. R. T. Ames, Onancock, is in New Hampshire, nursing the hay fever.

Our merchants and farmers visiting Baltimore, this spring and summer will find the Maltby house, a desirable stopping place.

Mr. R. D. Hart, near Savageville, this county, sold this week his four year old Hannis, sired by Pilot Boy, to Mr. John Hart, of Philadelphia, for $700.

The Fourth Quarterly Conference for this conference year of M. E. Church, South, will be held at Guilford, on Sunday, September 4th and Monday, September 5th, 9:30 a. m.

Ashby & Belote, Accomac C. H., are opening out their Fall stock of goods this week. It will be large, very select and cheap. You are expected to call if you want bargains.

Regular services will be resumed at M. E. Church, South, Drummondtown, to-morrow, 24 p. m. Protracted services will be held in the church, commencing Sunday, September 11th.

Very valuable personal property offered for sale in this issue by F. H. Carmine, trustee. It will be sold at public auction, Wednesday, September 28th. See advertisement for full particulars.

Our excuse, for shortcomings in this issue and delay in getting out paper, is, we were at the Fair looking after the finances of the office. Expect the ENTERPRISE on time after this issue.

The vacation given to Rev. S. U. Grimsley by the churches in his charge having expired, he will fill his regular appointments to-morrow, both at Drummondtown and at Holies at the usual hour.

Miss Mary Fisher, daughter of Thorogood Fisher, was run over by a road cart, driven recklessly by Chas. Wessels, while on her way to Pethel Church, Friday of last week, and had her collar-bone broken in two places.

Steamer Eastern Shore will give a grand moonlight excursion to Old Point, Monday, September 5th, leaving her landings at the usual hour on the down trip from Baltimore—leaving Old Point at 12 o'clock, making her landings at the usual hour for Baltimore.

Messrs. A. H. G. Mears and George T. Stockley, two enterprising young men of the lower part of the county, who left some time ago for Chicago, to receive consignment of potatoes at that point during the Fall, do not find there the demand for them, expected and will return home in a few days.

B. U. Doughty & Son, Exmore, Va., authorize the announcement, that their stock of merchandise will be sold at and below cost until 29th of September—and that all persons indebted to them either by note or open account must settle by that day or the same will be placed in the hands of an officer for collection.

The Eastern Shore Agricultural Fair was a grand success in all respects this year—fine weather, first-class exhibits, fast and well-contested races, large gate receipts. The number in attendance during Fair was larger than during any previous year and the receipts were large enough to pay all indebtedness of the Association. Full particulars next issue.

Several building lots situated at Greenbackville, half interest in oyster house at Franklin city, piano, organ, horses, boats, guns, household and kitchen furniture and other articles too numerous to mention will be sold at public auction at Greenbackville, next Wednesday, September 7th, by Mr. John F. Powell. See advertisement in this issue for full particulars.

The destruction to crops and other property by the late storm in the upper part of Accomac was much greater even than reported in our last issue. The corn on many farms was almost entirely destroyed and the potato patches suffered to almost as great an extent. The losses reported are: of Ralph Burroughs about $500, A. C. Hart $100, Mrs. Noah Smith $100, E. T. Lang $100, James C. Lang $100, W. T. Duncan $100, Thomas Thornton $100, Abbott Chesser $100, A. S. Parks $50 and many others of smaller amounts.

Mr. James P. Martin and family had a narrow escape from serious injury at the crossing near Keller, last Thursday. No signal being given, they found the train upon them when they reached the track with the head of their horse in touch of the cars as they passed. To save himself and family Mr. Martin had to jump from his carriage, and in doing so fell and was dragged for some distance, receiving several wounds on his head and face. His wife, child and a young lady with them also were thrown out by the shock and badly bruised and his carriage badly broken. The N. Y. P. & N. R. R. will probably be called to account for the failure to signal, and should be.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

Horiotown.

Corn crop in this locality very short this season.

The late colored camp meeting at Wattleville, was well attended and wound up with a free fight.

Mrs. Mary Melvin, wife of John H. Melvin, long confined to her room by illness, is much improved at this writing.

Mrs. Jessie Zimmerman, of Baltimore, together with her friend Miss Mand Moss, are guests of Mrs. Wm. S. Holland.

Red Hills, our watering place, has been well patronized this season. On one day early in August the crowd was estimated at $300.

Our oyster industry promises to be attended with remunerative results this season. They are very fine at present and have been during the entire summer.

Our church is now receiving the finishing touches of the painter and is indeed an ornament to the town. That it is now the thing of beauty it is due to the enterprise and tireless efforts of the ladies of the town.

The Oyster Question.

Review of the Claim of Maryland of the right of her citizens to fish in the waters of Pocomoke Sound.

According to the speeches, as reported in the Baltimore Sun, of the Maryland members of the joint Legislative Committee appointed, respectively, by the States of Md. and Va., at their meeting held in July 1892 at Old Point, perfect unanimity existed on the part of those members as to the right of the citizens of their State to fish, in common with the citizens of Va., in the Pocomoke River, and also in Pocomoke Sound.

They base their right under the Compact of 1785; stating that "the Pocomoke is embraced as one of the waters dividing Va. from Md. and in the same category as the Potomac." In the statement of their case by Senator Hayes, he says, "If Va. has the common right of oyster in the Potomac under the Compact of 1785, Md. ought to have, as Md. interprets the Compact, has the same right in the Pocomoke Sound or River." Art. 7 of this Compact is the only part of the instrument which confers a concurrent right of fishing upon the citizens of both States; and this right is expressly restricted to the waters of the river Pocomoke. This article provides, "the citizens of each State, respectively, shall have full property in the shores of Pocomoke river adjoining their lands, with all emoluments and advantages thereunto belonging, and the privilege of making and carrying out wharves and other improvements, so as not to obstruct or injure the navigation of the river; but the right of fishing in the river shall be common to, and equally enjoyed by the citizens of both States: Provided, that such common right be not exercised by the citizens of the one State to the hindrance or disturbance of the fisheries on the shores of the other State; and that the citizens of neither shall have a right to fish with nets or seines on the shores of the other." This language is plain and unambiguous, and it is surprising that it should be attempted to give to it a construction which would confer a right upon the citizens of both States to fish in the Pocomoke river, or the Sound, when the only waters mentioned in the article are those of the Pocomoke.

But it is claimed that Art. 7 should be read in connection with Art. 8, and being so read, that the contention on the part of Md. for the concurrent right to fish in Pocomoke river will be sustained. Art. 8 reads, "All laws and regulations which may be necessary for the preservation of fish, or for the performance of quarantine in the river Pocomoke, or for preserving and keeping open the channel and navigation thereof (of the Pocomoke) or of the river Pocomoke, within the limits of Va., by preventing the throwing out ballast, or giving any other obstruction thereto, shall be made with the mutual consent and approbation of both States." This Art. provides, first, that all laws necessary for the preservation of fish in the Potomac, the common right of fishing in which was reserved to both States by Art. 7, shall be made with the mutual consent and approbation of both States; secondly, that regulations for the performance of quarantine in the Potomac shall be adopted in the same way; and, thirdly, laws and regulations for preserving and keeping open the channel and navigation of the Potomac, or of the river Pocomoke, within the limits of Va., by preventing the throwing out ballast, or giving any other obstruction thereto, shall be enacted concurrently by both States. The sole reference to the Pocomoke in this Art. for joint legislation on the part of both States, is for keeping open its channel and preserving the navigation of so much of it as was within the limits of Va. Not the first word is found in the whole Art. as to any right of fishing in the Pocomoke. By no correct rules of grammatical construction placed on the phraseology used in this Art. can a right be claimed on the part of Md. citizens to fish in the waters of the Pocomoke.

But the Md. members of the joint-committee refer to the decision of the Va. Court of Appeals in the case of Hendricks vs. the Commonwealth, 75 Va. Reports, 324, as having settled by adjudication the concurrent right of the citizens of Md. to fish in the Pocomoke. It is true that in announcing the opinion of the Court in that case, Anderson, J., said, by Art. 8 of the Compact of 1785, "all laws and regulations, which may be necessary for the PRESERVATION OF FISH" in the river Pocomoke or the river Pocomoke, within the limits of Va., "shall be made with the mutual consent and approbation of both States." But with all due deference to this high tribunal, it is contended that the construction placed by it on Art. 8 is erroneous, and was given without due consideration. No question arose in that case requiring an adjudication of any right in that part of the Pocomoke river which was within the limits of Va. But two questions were before the Court for decision; the one, whether a demurrer to an indictment containing two counts, being general, and not to each count thereof, if either count is good, it was properly overruled; and the other, whether a citizen of Md. is liable to prosecution and conviction in a Va. court, notwithstanding Art. 10 of the Compact of 1785, for the violation of a statute of Va. relating to fishing in the Potomac river, which statute was enacted with the consent and approbation of the State of Md. So much of the opinion of the Court as relates to the right of fishery in the Pocomoke river, a right not raised before the Court at the time, is merely an OBITER DICTUM, and not binding authority on the State or on individuals.

However, Md. in 1872, through her Boundary Commissioners, in the Statement on their part of the claims of Md. submitted to the Va. Commissioners, gave her construction of the Compact of 1785. On page 68 of their Statement will be found the following: "It is remarkable, too, that in the Compact of 1785, while conceding that the right of fishing in the Pocomoke river shall be common to, and equally enjoyed by the citizens of both States, Md. omitted to secure, by express terms, reciprocal rights in the Pocomoke river." This statement was signed by all of the Md. Commissioners, Messrs. Isaac D. Jones and Levin L. Waters, of Somerset County, and Mr. William J. Aydelott, of Worcester County, Md. It is surprising that this admission as to the true construction of the Compact of 1785 should have been made by the representatives of Md.; if it would have borne a different one, because the same claim of a concurrent right of citizens of Md. to fish in the Pocomoke river was then urged; and still more surprising that after uniting in this statement of Md's case in 1872, Commissioner Waters, now Senator Waters and a Md. member of the joint Legislative Committee, should in July 1892 join in a construction of the Compact which insists that by its provisions Md. citizens acquired an expressed right of fishing in the waters of Pocomoke river within the limits of Va. [To be Continued.]

EDITOR OF ENTERPRISE:—Please insert these letters in your next issue.

W. P. CUSTIS.

ONANCOCK, Aug. 27, 1892.

Mr. W. P. Custis, Dear Sir:—I feel due to you to explain my position to you as regards your recent communication to me. Your reputation in this community for fair dealing is much above the average, and when we made our charge against the "ring" of commission men we did not include you, for we did not think you belonged to such a ring. As to the "lie," we refer you to G. G. Joynes whom we have heard say that you lied about the probable loss of $1,000 by the use of baskets. Others have heard him say so also. About the returns of 50 cents less Prof. Joynes claims to hold account sales showing same. We trust you will not think hard of our speaking plainly. Hoping to hear from you by Thursday in answer to Joynes' charge, I remain, Sir, Yours truly,

CHAS. STENGLE.

Onancock, Va., Accomac Review.

ONANCOCK, VA., Aug. 28th, 1892.

Mr. W. P. Custis,

My Dear Sir:—I was told by a friend this morning, that one Chas. Stengle in answer to a letter from you when he had accused you of lying, that he (Stengle), to justify himself had said to you in letter that he could prove it by me, or something to that effect. I desire to say to you that he was in no way authorized to use my name. He alone is responsible for what has been said or done. I have never known you to lie and have never intimated to any one that you had lied or would lie under any circumstances. I will see this man Stengle as soon as he comes to town in reference to his right to use my name in any such charge against you, and write you the particulars.

After you made statement in the paper against my "Baskets," I answered in the same paper. You doubtless read it. That was all I said or had to say.

Yours truly,

G. G. JOYNS.

Death of Hon. F. H. Bayly Browne.

Hon. F. H. Bayly Browne died at his home at Accomac C. H., last Saturday, after a long illness, aged 40 years. He was elected attorney for the Commonwealth in early life, was a member of Congress from the 1st district for two terms and was the attorney for the N. Y. P. & N. R. R., at the time of his death. He was a man of popular manners, had many sincere friends, and his early death is generally regretted throughout the county. His wife and three children survive him. After funeral services held over him on Monday, at St. James Episcopal Church, conducted by Rev. Mr. Atkinson, he was interred in the family burying ground at Mount Custis.

School Holiday.

Mr. Editor:—The county school at its last meeting, August 1st, decided that Easter Monday shall be a legal holiday in the public schools of Accomac. All other days lost by the teachers must be deducted from their pay, except days lost by sickness. These may be made up at the end of the session but cannot be made up on Saturdays. Columbus day, (October 12) will be commemorated, by suitable exercises, as the 40th anniversary of the discovery of America. A recess or vacation will be given during Christmas week without pay to the teachers. J. D. PARSONS, Clerk County School Board.

Resolutions of Respect.

At a special meeting of Camp Pearl, No. 13, Fraternal Legion, held in Powell's hall, Greenbackville, August 30th, 1892, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted: Whereas, the Lord in his Allwise Providence has seen fit to remove from us our beloved and esteemed brother Dr. G. Russell Smith. Therefore it is resolved, 1. That we do greatly mourn the loss of him who had so won the affection of all who knew him, and one who as a physical restorer, and our medical examiner, will be difficult to replace. 2. That we are reminded that death is in the land, and is no respecter of persons, that the young die as well as the old, and becoming a member of the Fraternal Legion is judicious as a financial preparation for the future comfort and care of the relatives of the deceased comrade. 3. That our sympathy goes out to his afflicted widow, children, parents and friends, devoid of his company and genial nature, and that copies of these resolutions be inserted in the Comrade, Patriot and Express, the Peninsula Ledger, and Press, and sent to his widow and parents, and be spread in memoriam upon the records of this meeting.

Obituary.

Died at her home, near Bloxom station, Accomac County, Friday, August 27th, Elizabeth A. Fletcher, wife of James J. Fletcher, aged 68 years. She died regretted and bemoaned not only by her family, but by all who knew her, for a more unselfish, self-sacrificing, kind heart never lived—and it can truly be said of her, "none knew her but to love her." She was untiring in her efforts to lend to the comfort and welfare of family. She was converted in early life and joined the Methodist Church. In her last illness, which was very severe she was never heard to murmur or complain. She died trusting in God. She left three children, an aged and infirm husband, to whom she was ever faithful to minister to all wants in sickness and in health, and many warm friends to mourn their loss; yet we mourn not as those who have no hope but cherish the fond hope of meeting her again in that happy land where parting will be no more. O God, this sad affliction, the dispensation of thy Allwise Providence be sanctified to our good. How sweet the thought, while herein our friends from us are given; tears, we too, shall soon resign our breath, and live with them in heaven. HER DAUGHTER.

$100 Reward.

A reward of $100 will be given to any person getting up a card postal, let-ter circular or telegram that has been sent by Barnett Bond's Son, of Baltimore, to Messrs. Pritchard & Co., of Columbus, Ohio. Respectfully, BARNETT BOND'S SON.
